Primero Impressor en estos Reynos.|Año de* 1596. Esta tassado a tres quartillas el pliego,|en papel.| 4to, Title, 10 prel. leaves, on the third of which is a woodcut Portrait of Oña; Text, 335 leaves, Table, 1 leaf. J.C.B. 57300

A work of the greatest rarity, and the first great poem written in South America, by a native poet: on the same subject and in continuation of Ercilla's celebrated epic, "La Araucana," compared with which it is rather dull. It opens with the departure of D. G. H. de Mendoza for Chili, and concludes with the great naval combat of Callas between D. Beltram de Castro and the English Admiral Hawkins. Drake and his followers are called pirates. Its historical value is greater than its literary merit; and the student must refer to the stanzas of "Arauco Domado" (fortunately unembellished by a brilliant imagination) for many details of the conquest and settlement of Chili, not to be found in Ovalle or elsewhere. A second part, which the author promised at the end of this work, never appeared. See Ticknor's "History of Spanish Literature," II. 465.

OÑA. Aravco|domado.|Compvesto por el|Licenciado Pedro de Oña, natural de los|Infantes de Engol en Chile, Colegial del|Real Colegio Mayor de San Felipe, y|San Marcos fundado en la Ciu-|dad de Lima.|Dirigido a Don Hvrtado|de Mendoça, Primogenito de don Garcia Hur-|tado de Mendoça, Marques de|Cañete ... . Año, 1605.|Con privilegio;|En Madrid, por Ivan de la Cuesta.|Vendese en casa de Francisco Lopez.| 8vo, 16 prel. leaves, Text, 342 leaves, Table, pp. (3). 57301

A reprint of the foregoing.

OÑA. El Arauco Domado, compuesto por el Licenciado Pedro de Oña ... . Dirijido á D. Hurtado de Mendoza ... . Nueva edicion arreglada á la Madrid del año 1605. Valparaiso. 1849. 18mo, pp. vi, 524. 57302

Another edition is included in the "Biblioteca de Autores Españoles," Madrid, 1854. Nicolas Antonio, who never saw the original, mentions two other Madrid editions, one printed in 1595, quarto, the other in 1608, octavo, which I have not seen.

Ordre et Progrez du Triomphant et Magnifique Advenement du Roy [Henry II.] et de la Royne de France en leur bonne ville de Rouen. Rouen. 1551. 4to. 57538

One of the many entertainments given by the city of Rouen, at the entry of Henry II. and Catharine of Medici, was a show of three hundred American Indians, representing them in their sports, pastimes, fights, and mode of living, in a place got up in imitation of the localities and general appearance of their native land. To make the show approach reality as near as possible, fifty wild Indians had been actually imported from Brasil.

[ORTEL.] Thea | trvm | orbis | terra | rvm. | [Colophon :] Auctoris ære & cura impressum absolutumque | apud Ægid. Coppenium Diesth. Antverpiæ M.D.LXX. Folio, Engraved Title, and (7) leaves. 53 Maps engraved by Hogenberg, Index, 27 leaves. C.

The first and most rare edition of one of the most celebrated geographical works of the fifteenth century, of which there have been many subsequent editions, and in which the number of maps has been much increased. Stevens remarks: "A thorough study of Ortelius is of the last importance to the student of the geography of the western hemisphere. He was a bibliographer, a cartographer, and an antiquarian, as well as a good mathematician and geographer, and what is of infinite importance to us now, he gave his authorities. Many of the rampant errors that disturb and puzzle us can be treed and flayed by the help of Ortelius. It was Ortelius' famous list of authorities that first gave to Humboldt the hint that Hylacomilus and Waldseemuller were one and the same person, the key to his investigations upon the St. Dié fraternity, and the Vespucci voyages."

ORTEL. Theatre de l'Univers. Anvers. 1574. Folio. 69 Maps. 57695

The text varies considerably, but the sixty-nine maps are just the same as in the German edition of 1572. Some copies have the text in Latin.

The rarest issue of the atlas of Ortelius. The map of the New World is singularly correct and full of detail.

ORTEL. Theatrum oder Schawbuch des Erdtkreys ... . Antorff. 1580. Folio. Portrait and 93 sheets of Maps. 57707

In this second German issue the text is entirely re-written, and the barbarous language of the edition of 1572 is changed. Twenty-four additional maps are added, of which two have a special value for the American collector.

The writer, a native of Boston, was one of the first and most influential of the controversialists on the popular side. This piece was read in MS. to the Massachusetts House of Representatives, and was published with their knowledge though not by their orders. The Instructions of May, 1764, in the Appendix, were drawn by Samuel Adams. See Kennedy's "Memoirs of the Life of Wirt," II. 49. "A very zealous defence of the colonies, tending to prove that ... no part of his Majesty's dominions can constitutionally be taxed without their own consent."—Monthly Review.

The ship "Geloof," under the command of Captain Sebald De Weert, was one of the five ships sent to the Indies by the Straits of Magellan, in June, 1598, under Admirals J. Mahn and Simon de Cordes. The expedition was unfortunate. Both admirals perished, and the ship of De Weert alone returned to Holland.

J.C.B.

Extremely rare. Comprises the first ten books of Oviedo. It differs from the previous number only in having the translator's name on the title. Ternaux, No. 47, places this under 1536.

[OVIEDO.] L'Histoire de la | Terre Nevve dv | Perù en l'Inde Occidentale, qui | est la principale mine d'or du | monde, naguères descou- | uerte, & conquise, & | nommée la nou- | uelle Castille, | Traduitte de l'Italien en Françoys. | ... | On les vend à Paris au Palais en la Galerie | par ou on va à la Chancellerie en la | boutique de Vincent Sertenas. | 1545. | Avec Privilege. | [Colophon :] Imprimé à paris par Pierre Gaul- | tier, pour Iehan Barbé & Vincent Sertenas. | 1545. | Sm. 4to, (4) and (49) leaves. J.C.B. 57994

The last two lines of leaf Bij read: "L'aucteur est Gonzalo Ferdinando del Ouiedo natif de Madril q̃ a faict l'histoire generale, dôt est extraict ce summaire." Corrected title of our No. 32018. The translation is said to be by Jacques Gohory. See [Harrisse], No. 264.

"The work of Oviedo, who resided more than twenty years in America, is the fountain head whence most succeeding writers have drawn their accounts of the early occurrences in the New World."—RICH. "Among the persons who early came to America, and have left important records of their adventures and times, one of the most considerable was Gonzalo F. de Oviedo."—TICKNOR's Hist. Spanish Lit., I. 561. "With all his obvious defects, Oviedo showed an enlightened curiosity, and a shrewd spirit of observation, which place him far above the ordinary range of chroniclers."—PRESCOTT's Hist. of the Conquest of Mexico, II. 293, note. Las Casas remarks: "Oviedo should have written at the head of his history: This book was written by a conqueror, robber and murderer of the Indians, whole populations of whom he consigned to the mines, where they perished."—Gen. Hist. de las Yndias, MS. cap. XXIII. See also our Vol. I., No. 1565.

OVIEDO Y BAÑOS (J. de). Historia de la Conquista, y Poblacion de la Provincia de Venezuela. Escrita por D. Joseph de Oviedo y Baños ... . Primera Parte. Madrid: Gregorio Hermosilla. M.DCC.XXIII. Folio, pp. (16), 380, (7). C., H. + Carácas. 1824. 4to, pp. (20), 615, (14). 57997

The second part is said to have been destroyed by the aristocratic families of Venezuela on account of its containing the history of their beginnings, which were in many cases anything but aristocratic. This story, however, appears rather improbable.

DC. LVI. 8vo, pp. (10), 190. Map. 58141

Several chapters of this curious work are devoted to descriptions of the aborigines of the valley of the Amazon; and those treating of the advantages of commerce with them, suggest an odd comparison with the works of our own day, written two centuries later, which do but little more than repeat the same statements. It is composed principally from that of Acuna.

"With these 'Additions,' Paine had nothing to do. The pamphlet was made up by Robert Bell, the original publisher, after his quarrel with Paine, to be bound with the third edition of 'Common Sense,' with Paine's own Additions and 'Appendix.' The publication was a device to help the sale of Bell's edition against the one printed about the same time by W. and T. Bradford, who had become Paine's publishers."—J. H. TRUMBULL. "Mr. Paine complains of Washington for not having interfered for his liberation, when a prisoner in France, in the time of Robespierre; accuses him of wanting gratitude and humanity, and attacks his military skill, which he pronounces inferior to that of Generals Gates and Green."—Monthly Review, XXII. 216.

Mr. Paine was no admirer of Washington and thus addresses him: "Elevated to the chair of the presidency, you assumed the merit of everything to yourself; and the natural ingratitude of your constitution began to appear. You commenced your presidential career by encouraging and swallowing the grossest adulation; and you travelled America from one end to the other to put yourself in the way of receiving it. You have as many addresses in your chest as James the Second. As to what were your views, for you are not great enough to have ambition, though you are little enough to have vanity, they cannot be inferred from expressions of your own; but the partizans of your politics have divulged the secret."

"Palafox was a second Las Casas in representing to the Spanish Government the wretched condition of the Americans, and in advocating its amelioration. His zeal and humanity were most conspicuous in this exposition addressed to the King, in which he has described with much ingenuousness the good dispositions of the natives. The work has thence acquired the title of the 'Virtudes del Indio.' But so true has it always been that Veritas odium parit, that secrecy was necessary in printing the book without any title-page, date, or place of publication; and it has become one of the scarcest works relating to the affairs of America." See Brunet, IV. 313. Ternaux dates it 1650. See Stevens's "Historical Nuggets," No. 2084.

PAPOONAHOAL. An Account of a Visit lately made to the People called Quakers, In Philadelphia, by Papoonahoal, an Indian Chief, and several other Indians, chiefly of the Minisink Tribe. With the Substance of their Conferences on that Occasion. London: Printed ... by S. Clark. MDCCLXI. 18mo, pp. 21.

"His speeches are models of good sense and religious conviction; but the most remarkable of all the addresses by American Indians, was made by him to the Governor, who offered him a considerable, and to the chief very valuable amount of goods, as a present. The dignified and noble reply, in which he declined to receive them, on the ground that his visit was entirely for religious instruction, and therefore of too sacred a character to admit of the gross indulgence of personal desires, is worthy of a place on the same page with the most renowned sayings of the heroes of antiquity. The book is rare."—FIELD.

A very rare and curious newspaper, published during the war, and consisting mainly of satirical attacks upon the Brazilians and their allies, which are written and illustrated with much ability notwithstanding the rudeness of the cuts. Specimens of the native tongue occur in every number. This journal shows clearly the strong national feeling of the Paraguayans and their unshaken attachment to Lopez at that time.

Extremely rare. It seems to have escaped the search of even Mr. Sibley, who puts Woodbridge's tract on "Justification by Faith," 1652, as first in the brief list of his publications, and remarks that that "is probably the second work printed by any Harvard graduate." This little tract refutes some heretical opinions maintained by his "very loving sister" in reference to which, Cotton, Wilson, and Noyes also corresponded with her.

Seventy-five copies printed on large paper. "The charm which Mr. Parkman's books assert on the attention of every reader, is not wholly derived from the pleasing style of his writing. His perfect knowledge of Indian life and manners, acquired by personal experience, and his exhaustion of the literature of his subject, as it is found in printed works, unedited manuscripts, and authenticated tradition, give new interest to the subjects of which he treats."—FIELD. ... Patent Office. Report from The Commissioner of Patents, transmitting information, in relation to ... his office for ... 1837. Jan. 17, 1838. [Washington. 1838.] 8vo, pp. 52. s. Continued annually. 59043

This first report was made by Commissioner Ellsworth; from 1837 to 1840 inclusive, these reports formed an appendix to the President's message; after this date they were published separately. To the report for 1843 was appended a list of the claims of the patents issued, which was published in the form of an appendix until 1849–50, when it was embodied in the report. By an act of Congress, March 3, 1849, the commissioner was required to add to his report the Agricultural Department. Previous to 1849–50 the Mechanical and Agricultural Departments of the report were published in one volume; since that time the volumes have appeared annually. The report for 1853 was the first in which the patents issued were illustrated by cuts.

A very important work as regards the ecclesiastical history of Mexico. "One of the notable Saints of Mexico, not so much for miraculous origin like that of Guadalupe, but for its preservation, being painted on a wall of adobe or clay. The manuscript documents accompanying show that although its origin is claimed to have been in 1695, it attracted the attention of the Archbishop and the Inquisition in 1745, and here is the original order to stop such worship, to close the doors and windows of the oratorio where it was, and to cover the image. It was also ordered to discontinue the collection of money, and to deliver up the whole property existing. Like the Guadalupe apparition the antiquity of origin is shown by these papers to have been a later idea. But by efforts here shown the image triumphed, and we have the order of the Virey, Feb. 18, 1770, to collect money, and the plan of the Contador, Sept. 4, 1785, to give greater splendor to the worship of this 'Imagen Portentosa.'"—STEVENS's Bibliotheca Historica.

The Patriots of North-America: A Sketch. With Explanatory Notes. ... New York: Printed in the Year, M,DCC,LXXV. 8vo, pp. iv, 47. P. 59109

In this curious revolutionary poem the States are characterized as school-boys, and notwithstanding "a tory here reviles the whigs in verse," it is a clever performance with curious notes. It was probably printed by Rivington.

This valuable publication contains no less than sixteen fac-simile copies of early and late maps of St. Domingo and adjacent parts, taken from the Kohl collection in the Department of State at Washington. These maps render this a book of considerable geographical importance outside of Alto Velo, the subject of the controversy.

PATTIE (J. O.) The Personal Narrative of James O. Pattie, of Kentucky, during an Expedition from St. Louis, through the Vast Regions between that Place and the Pacific Ocean, and thence back through the City of Mexico to Vera Cruz, during Journeyings of Six Years; in which he and his Father, who accompanied him, suffered unheard of Hardships and Dangers, had various Conflicts with the Indians, and were made Captives, in which Captivity his Father died: together with a Description of the Country, and the various Nations through which they passed. Edited by Timothy Flint. Cincinnati: E. H. Flint. 1833. 8vo, pp. 300. 5 Plates. BA. 59150

"Possesses more than the ordinary interest and value, which attaches to the stories of adventurers. He crossed the continent of America on a route which his party were the first to pursue. He encountered tribes of Indians who then saw a white man for the first time, and his narrative has the merit of being given in a candid, unexaggerated style, which impresses us with its veracity."—FIELD.

The second volume was published in 1769; and the third, being a defense of the two first, against the Abbé Pernetty, in 1770. Vol. III. has in addition to the above title: "Nouvelle édition augmentée d'une Dissertation Critique par Dom Pernetty; & de la Défense de l'Auteur des Recherches contre cette Dissertation." The author endeavors to show the inferior character of everything American, especially the inhabitants, and his work evoked considerable controversy. It contains a very curious account of the "Hermaphrodites de la Floride," and the custom of "Circoncision" and "Infibulation."

Nicholas Ferrar was Deputy Governor of the Virginia Company while the Earl of Southampton was Governor. He was also one of the managers or council of the company, the third associate being Sir Edward Sandys. Ferrar too, was for a time king's counsel for the company. He was born in 1592 and died in 1637. He is noticed in Wood's "Athenæ Oxoniensis" and by Chalmers.

This volume contains many documents and facts pertaining to Virginia no where else to be met with, and is, to the American historian, of the highest value. It contains the only authentic account we have of the royal high-handed dissolution of the Virginia Company through the intrigues of Gondimar, compiled from materials which are now believed to be lost. This work was reprinted with additions from a MS. in the Lambeth library in Wordsworth's "Ecclesiastical Biography." New Edition, abridged, London, 1833, fcap 8vo.

PEIRCE [James]. A Tractate on Church Music; being an Extract from the Reverend and Learned Mr. Peirce's Vindication of the Dissenters. ... London. MDCCLXXXVI. 8vo, pp. 31.

"Inscribed to the reverend Doctor Chauncy and the reverend Mr. John Clark, the Ministers; and to the several members of the First Congregational Dissenting Church in Boston in America." "The interest of this tract is considerably enhanced by a knowledge of the circumstances which called it forth. It is well known that Mr. Tho. Brande Hollis, one of the benefactors of Harvard College, had acquired widespread reputation for wealth and liberality, and was not unfrequently subjected to calls for considerable sums of money for objects in which he had either no sympathy, or did not feel that he should be bled. Among these applications was one from Dr. Charles Chauncy and the pillars of the First Congregational Church of Boston for £500, to buy an Organ. Instead of granting this extraordinary request from a well-to-do Society, Mr. Brande Hollis caused, it is said, 500 copies of this Tractate to be printed and sent over to the Members of the Society, endeavoring thereby to inculcate in them that modesty and simplicity in their public worship, which they seemed for the moment to be outgrowing."—STEVENS.

A catechism for the use of the Quiripi Indians of New Haven Colony, in English and Indian (interlinear). The only known copy with this, the original title, is in the Lenox Library. Another copy, in the British Museum, reads, after "Abraham Peirson," | "Pastor of the Church at Branford. | Examined and approved by that | Experienced Gentleman (in the In- | dian language) Captain | John Scot." | and, in the imprint, "Cambridge: Printed for Samuel Green." This alteration was made after the publication of the book, and probably in England. These are the only copies known to be preserved. The first sheet of the catechism was reprinted in London, in 1659, at the end of "A Further Accompt of the Progresse," etc. See our Vol. VI., No. 22149. The whole was reprinted, with an introduction, by J. Hammond Trumbull, in an edition of one hundred copies, Hartford, 1873. It should be noted that the author wrote his name Pierson, though it is Peirson on the title-page.

Relates to privateering in the revolutionary war.

PENHALLOW (S.) The | History | of the | Wars of New-England, | With the Eastern Indians. | Or, A | Narrative | Of their continued Perfidy and Cruelty, | from the 10th of August, 1703. | To the Peace renewed 13th of July, 1713. | And from the 25th of July, 1722. | To their Submission 15th December, 1725. | Which was Ratified August 5th, 1726. | By Samuel Penhallow, Esqr. | ... | Boston: Printed by T. Fleet, for S. Gerrish ... . 1726. Sm. 8vo, pp. (2), iv, (2), 134, (1). C., W. 59654

This work, in any condition, ranks among the rarest of New England imprints, while a perfect copy with good margin, is very difficult to obtain. The author was born in Cornwall, England, July, 1665, and arrived in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, July, 1686. He held many important offices of public trust with great honor, being Chief Justice of the Province, at the period of his death, in December, 1726, at the age of sixty-one. His work on the Indian wars is esteemed as the highest authority on that subject. His design in emigrating was to serve the corporation for the propagation of the gospel among the Indians, as a missionary, after he had made himself acquainted with their language. Whether he ever really performed that service is uncertain.

PENHALLOW. The History of the Wars of New-England with the Eastern Indians ... . By Samuel Penhallow, Esqr. ... Cincinnati: Reprinted ... for Wm. Dodge, by J. Harpel. 1859. 4to, pp. 138, 36. B. 59655

Of this reprint the copies having a rubricated title are most esteemed, as they contain an appendix, with "Lovewell's Fight," Gardener's Account of the "Pequot Warres," and "The Gospel in New-England."

Penhor Mercantil. Questão entre Antonio Francisco de Lacerda e os Representantes do Casal do Commendador José Agostinho de Salles. Bahia: Typ. de Camillo de Lellis Masson & C. 1864. 8vo, pp. 56. 59656

One of the first printed accounts of Philadelphia by the founder of the colony, and is of the highest interest to a Pennsylvania collector. There were two editions. In the second, "Poprietary" is corrected to "Proprietary," and the signature varies from "Your Kind Cordial Friend," in the first, to "Your Kind and Cordial Friend" in the second. The plan and list of lot holders are usually deficient. For a Dutch version, see "Missive," No. 59716, infra.

This cause was of great consequence, not only on account of the property depending on its decision, but because the following questions were determined upon solemn argument. First, that the owners of letters of marque are responsible for injuries committed on the high seas, by the commanders of vessels sent out by them. Secondly, that in cases of capture from enemies, persons in other vessels acquire no rights, merely by seeing the capture made. Thirdly, that the judge of admiralty may legally take cognizance in similar cases, and that the appeal in such cases to a higher court is irregular.

Very scarce. A coarse lampoon on the Presbyterians who sustained the Proprietor in his contest with the popular party in the Assembly. The Moderator, "Mr. J..n E...g" [Ewing], is represented as offering, at the end of the Council, a prayer, in which occurs the petition: "Lord! Take the Pistol of thy Vengeance, and the Mortar-Piece of thy Wrath, and pound all our Enemies to Hodge Podge! But for us, thy Children, feed us with the Pruins and Raisins of thy Promises, and give us the Spurs of Confidence, and Boots of Hope," etc. Said to have been written by Franklin.

Motto.

When Gospel Trumpeter surrounded
With long-eared rout to Battle sounded,
And Pulpit Drum ecclesiastic,
Was beat by Fist instead of a Stick
Such Priests deserve to have their A-se Kick'd.

Numb. I. The Universal Instructor in all Arts and Sciences: and Pennsylvania Gazette. To be continued Weekly. Decemb. 24. 1728. Philadelphia: Printed by Samuel Keimer ... . Folio, pp. (4). 60754

Keimer's prospectus, dated October 1, 1728, promises "that each Person who preserves these Papers, will possess the richest Mine of useful Knowledge (of the Kind) ever before discover'd, except of late in Europe." Keimer in No. XIII. states that he printed two hundred and fifty copies, while Franklin says he had never more than ninety subscribers. With the 39th number Keimer's connection with the paper ceased, and No. 40 appeared as "The Pennsylvania Gazette. Containing the freshest Advices Foreign and Domestick. From Thursday, September 25, to Thursday, October 2, 1729." Philadelphia: Printed by B. Franklin and H. Meredith ... . With No. 44 the paper became bi-weekly, appearing Mondays and Thursdays. At No. 56 it became weekly, appearing Tuesdays to No. 66, continuing bi-weekly to No. 70, when it settled down to a weekly, appearing on Thursday, with occasional exceptions, until July 29, 1772, when the day was changed to Wednesday. The imprint was changed in No. 180 to Philadelphia: Printed by B. Franklin, at the New-Printing-Office near the Market. It remained the same until Oct. 6, 1737 (No. 460), when Post-Master was added after Franklin. The paper continued a small folio, generally four pages, until Oct. 6, 1739, when it was reduced to small quarto, double columns, the date transferred to the top of the page in the left corner, and a cut of the provincial arms, which was retained until No. 2533, was added. The sheet was enlarged in February, 1741–2, to three columns, and further enlarged in 1749, to the size it ever after maintained. In January, 1747, D. Hall's name was added to the imprint, and remained until October 31, 1765, thence to February 13, 1766, there is no imprint. From this last date till May 1, 1766, it was Printed by David Hall; from May 8, 1766, to Dec. 23, 1772, it was Printed by D. Hall and W. Sellers, and afterward Hall & Sellers. The paper was suspended from November 27, 1776 (No. 2501), to February 5, 1777 (No. 2502), and the regular issue ceased with September 10, 1777 (No. 2533), which was not resumed till January 5, 1779 (No. 2534), when it appeared as "The Pennsylvania Gazette and Weekly Advertiser." In the interim some twenty-five issues, of various sizes and irregular dates, were printed at York, Pa. The publication was continued with some interruptions until 1830.

The "Metallic Tractors," which were invented by Dr. Elisha Perkins of Connecticut, gained an extensive notoriety in 1796, and many cures were attributed to them. The doctor's son, Benjamin Douglas Perkins, went to London, where he established a Perkinsian institute, and published several pamphlets and books concerning them. The "tractors," however, were attacked and ridiculed by the medical profession, and in a few years lost their reputation. PETERS. The Rev. Samuel Peters' LL.D. General History of Connecticut, from its first settlement under George Fenwick to its latest period of amity with Great Britain prior to the Revolution; including a Description of the Country, and many curious and interesting Anecdotes. With an appendix, pointing out the causes of the Rebellion in America; together with the particular part taken by the people of Connecticut in its promotion. By a Gentleman of the Province. London: 1781. To which are added, Additions to Appendix, Notes, and Extracts from Letters, verifying many important Statements made by the Author. By Samuel Jarvis M'Cormick. New York: D. Appleton and Company. 1877. 12mo, pp. 285. 61210

Dr. Peters, the "Parson Peters" of Trumbull's M'Fingal, was born at Hebron, Connecticut, in 1735; graduated at Yale College in 1759, and took charge of the Episcopal church at his native place in 1762. On the breaking out of the American Revolution in 1774, he made himself particularly obnoxious by his prominence and activity as a royalist. He was mobbed and obliged to flee to England, where he remained until 1805, when he returned to America. He died at New York in 1826, and his remains were removed to Hebron for burial. His History of Connecticut, which is a remarkable tissue of misstatements and exaggerations, is very severe in its reflections upon the inhabitants of that State, to whom he attributes some fictitious "Blue Laws." It also contains a curious account of "bundling," and a description of a midnight invasion of Windham by frogs, and the consequent terror and flight of the inhabitants. Speaking of the upper Cohoes Falls, he says: "Here water is consolidated, without frost, by pressure, by swiftness, between the pinching, sturdy rocks, to such a degree of induration, that no iron crow can be forced into it: here iron, lead, and cork, have one common weight." Dr. Peters also wrote a brief History of Hebron. "That most unscrupulous and malicious of lying narratives, Peters' history of Connecticut."—Dr. L. Bacon. "The Lying History."—Anal. Mag. iv. 49. "That mass of folly and falsehood commonly called Peters's History of Connecticut."—Dr. Dwight. See Professor Kingsley's "Historical Discourse," 38; "Monthly Review," lxvi. 250; Duyckinck, i.; Dwight's "Travels," iii. 495; Palfrey's "New England," ii.

Dedicated to General Gage, as a mark of the author's gratitude to him "for his generous support of the Pious, the Loyal, and Brave." Dr. Moffatt was a reputable physician of New London, and held the office of Controller of the Customs at the beginning of the Revolution, when, says his reverend eulogist "the Libertines 'gnashed on him with their teeth,' as the Cyrenians did on Stephen, because he was loyal to his King, ... and like the deaf Adder, they 'stopped their Ears, ran upon him, and cast him out of the City'" (p. 24).—J.
